WHY DOES WOODSHOP ROCK?

For nearly two decades Woodshop Rocks has been teaching the value of shop programs to middle school and high school students nationwide. With Woodshop Rocks' unique approach to an age old subject, woodshop classes across the U.S. are buzzing with engaged students practicing classic shop concepts and techniques on what will become their very own electric guitars. Over the course of a school year, kids of all skill levels apply their math and science lessons in real-world applications while fostering their self-confidence in a craft, and pride in an instrument that they have created for themselves. Bring Woodshop Rocks to your campus and experience the true value of this once-in-a-lifetime learning opportunity.
