

OUR VIDEOS

Kids speaking to kids

Designed to fit with an explicit teaching approach, your students will develop social and emotional skills from situations they are likely to come across in their lives.

(IN)ebsenies

In Webseries, students are confronted with real issues that affect children and have to choose the emotions and reactions as if they are ones in the video.

Zoom-Out is an entertaining series to help students learn how to implement social skills such as apologizing, expressing their emotions or choosing the right friends.

Zoom-In's mixed-media videos (real and animated) explore a child's inner-thoughts as they are faced with a challenge and the strategies they use to overcome it.

Zen Zone is a fun and relaxing series to help students get started with mindful meditation.
