

Leading the Launch

Action-Learning Series for school and district leaders

Dr. Kim Wallace started her career in public education 27 years ago as a high school teacher before going into site and district administration. Her most recent K-12 position was as the superintendent of one of the 20 largest school districts in California. Wallace's new book, Leading the Launch, introduces a field-tested 10-stage process for successfully implementing new initiatives in schools and districts. This personalized, interactive workshop includes tools, strategies, and action plans to help educational leaders launch and sustain new protocols, policies, and programs in their own settings.

This series can be held on location at your organization, or in a partial or full virtual format for a total of 15 hours:

*-Ten sessions @90 minutes each or
-Intensive 3-day sessions*

A hard copy of Leading the Launch is included for each participant.

- ✓ $7,850 for teams of up to five (5) participants.
- ✓ Groups larger than five (5) can be contracted at the additional rate $1,895 per person.
- ✓ Onsite visits incurring travel costs will be negotiated per contract.

Sign up for your spot today at processmakesperfect.org

